

Create a Blog using Google Blogger

- Go to Google and sign in. Under the Tools menu, click on MORE and you will see the icon for Blogger:

- Once the Blogger page opens, click on New Blog

- You will be asked to give your blog a title and a web address.

Blogs List > Create a new blog

Title

Address .blogspot.com
You can add a custom domain later.

Template

Simple

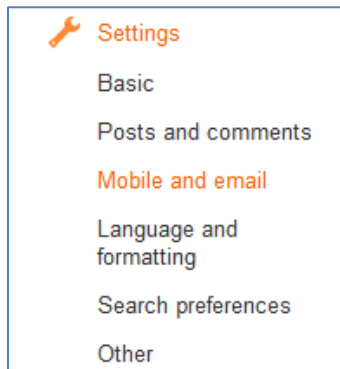

Dynamic Views

Picture Window

You can browse many more templates and customize your blog later.

Create blog! Cancel

- In the title, you can give the blog a description, but short name.
 - For example, you can call it, My Teaching Blog.
- In the Address, use a name that is easy to remember. It also has to be unique.
 - For example, You could call it, <http://aisha-teacher.blogspot.com>
- Once you have created the blog, you will have lots of options to play with.
 - Many of the settings can be left as default. However, you should look over them to be familiar with the privacy settings.
- Click on SETTINGS and then click on Mobile and Email

- Once in the settings, you can set up your blog to allow you to post to your blog from your mobile device.

Email

Posting using email ?

lesduke. @blogger.com

- Publish email immediately
 Save emails as draft post
 Disabled

Comment Notification Email ?

Choose from contacts - Remove

Email posts to ?

Add

- You can create an email address to which you can send your posts from your phone.
 - Add a word in the email box. It should be something easy to remember.
 - Then, add the email address to your phone contacts. Call the new contact, Blogger.
 - Test it by taking a photo with your phone and then emailing it to the blog.
 - The subject of the email will be the title of the post. Any words you type into the message box will appear in the body of the post.

File management

Name your files properly

Paul Leslie

Sent from my Samsung S3 Mobile

Posted by Paul Leslie at 10:55 AM No comments:

 Recommend this on Google